To Whom It May Concern:

Maintaining my sanity while trying to operate a business had almost become impossible. With several businesses closing and the area declining. My business quickly became a target for whatever vandals wanted to do. Loitering, the storefront window broken out, graffiti damage to the building and then a break-in and theft of equipment that is used to perform my services. I didn't know what to do, but I knew something had to be done. Ambassador Worldwide Protection Agency, Inc. came by word of mouth referral, and not a moment too soon. I contacted Mr. Bolling's company, contracted guard service for two guards and got an army of guards and other services for which I was not charged for and that was far above my operating budget. Needless to say, contracting service with Ambassador Worldwide Protection Agency, Inc is the best decision I could have made. It's a comfort to see the area improving and buildings once abandoned now beginning to have tenants. Thanks to Mr. Bolling and his energetic team of professions, my life and business is back on track. At first I was a bit reluctant to give Ambassador a try, simply because it was a fairly new business and the promised services seemed too good to be true. Now I don't see how I can afford to not have their services. I am happy to give this reference of services, feel free to contact me anytime.

Truly Yours,

Robert L. Bell
